The Personal Investigation of Spiritualism.

To assist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued personal existence after physical death, and of the possibility of communion with departed friends, and who are unable to join a society existing for this purpose, the following advertisements of mediums and psychies may be of service.

While adopting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the bona-fides of advertisers, the proprietors of 'Light' do not hold themselves in any way responsible, either for the qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its reasonableness. 'M. A. (Oxon.)' says: 'Try the results you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told . . . do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a spirit of idle curiosity or frivolity.'

The Personal Investigation of Spiritualism.

To assist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued per-

Jo assist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued personal existence after physical death, and of the possibility of communion with departed friends, and who are unable to join a society existing for this purpose, the following advertisements of mediums and psychics may be of service.

While adopting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the issa-fides of advertisers, the proprietors of 'Light' do not hold themselves in any way responsible, either for the qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its reasonableness. 'M. A. (Oxon.)' says: 'Try the results you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told . . . do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a spirit of idle curiosity or frivolity.'

LETTERS FROM A LIVING DEAD MAN

Written Down by ELSA BARKER.
(By Automatic Writing.)

The alleged Communicant occupied in life a high position in the legal profession, and his attitude towards all questions in relation to the other world was of the broadest kind. He enters it, according to his own account, in the spirit of an explorer, seeking new fields of knowledge, and his report of his experiences is as refreshingly broadminded as it is original and free from bias. The authoress observes that the effect of the letters has been to remove entirely any fear of death which she may have ever had.

The Personal Investigation of Spiritualism.

To assist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued personal existence after physical death, and of the possibility of communion with departed friends, and who are unable to join a society existing for this purpose, the following advertisements of mediums and psychics may be of service.

While adopting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the issa-fides of advertisers, the proprietors of 'Light' do not hold themselves in any way responsible, either for the qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its reasonableness. 'M. A. (Oxon.)' says: 'Try the results you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told . . . do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a spirit of idle curiosity or frivolity.'

Apart from the special subject of spirit return, there are other branches of psychic research, viz., clairvoyance, psychometry, clairaudience, &c., worthy of investigation by advanced students. It is essential, however, that these should be studied in a strictly scientific and impersonal spirit, anything in the nature of 'fortune-telling' being not only unreliable but illegal.

ossist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued personal existence after physical death, and of the possibility of communion with departed friends, and who are unable to join a society existing for this purpose, the following advertisements of mediums and psychics may be of service.

While adopting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the inva-fides of advertisers, the proprietors of 'Light' do not hold themselves in any way responsible, either for the qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its reasonableness. 'M. A. (Oxon.)' says: 'Try the results you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told . . . do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a spirit of idle curiosity or frivolity.'

Apart from the special subject of spirit return, there are other branches of psychic research, viz., clairvoyance, psychometry, clairaudience, &c., worthy of investigation by advanced students. It is essential, however, that these should be studied in a strictly scientific and impersonal spirit, anything in the nature of 'fortune-telling' being not only unreliable but illegal.

TWO BOOKS COMPLETE IN ONE VOLUME:

SPIRIT IDENTITY

HIGHER ASPECTS OF SPIRITUALISM

BY WM. STAINTON MOSES ('M.A., OXON.').

A Reprint of two valuable works by Mr. Stainton Moses. The author was the original promoter and the first President of the London Spiritualist Alliance, and the Council of the Alliance issues this reprint as an affectionate tribute to his memory.

SPIRIT IDENTITY:

An argument for the reality of the return of departed human spirits, illustrated by many narratives from personal experience; together with a discussion of some of the difficulties that beset the inquirer. Contains strong evidence that some of the Spirits who communicathrough mediumship are the departed individuals they say they are.

the Personal Investigation of Spiritualism.

To assist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued personal existence after physical death, and of the possibility of communion with departed friends, and who are unable to join a society existing for this purpose, the following advertisements of mediums and psychies may be of service.

while adopting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the bena-fides of advertisers, the proprietors of 'Light' do not hold themselves in any way responsible, either for the qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its reasonableness. 'M. A. (Oxon.)' says: 'Try the results you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told pirit of idle curiosity or frivolity.

Apart from the special subject of spirit return, there are other branches of psychic research, viz., clairvoyance, psychometry, clairaudience, &c., worthy of investigation by advanced students. It is essential, however, that these should be studied in a strictly scientific and impersonal spirit, anything in the nature of 'fortune-telling' being not only unreliable but illegal.

The Personal Investigation of Spiritualism.

Is unist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued persual existence after physical death, and of the possibility of ammunion with departed friends, and who are unable to in a society existing for this purpose, the following advertisements of mediums and psychics may be of service.

Wile adopting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the inseparts of advertisers, the proprietors of 'Light' do not hold themselves in any way responsible, either for the qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its reasonableness. 'M. A. (Oxon.)' says: 'Try the results you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told . . . do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a spirit of idle euriosity or frivolity.'

Apart from the special subject of spirit return, there are other branches of psychic research, vix., clairvoyance, psychometry, clairaudience. &c., worthy of investigation by advanced students. It is essential, however, that these should be studied in a strictly scientific and impersonal spirit, anything in the nature of 'fortune-telling' being sot only unreliable but illegal.

OFFICE OF LIGHT, 110, ST. MARTIN'S LANE, W.C.

April 10, 1915. the Personal Investigation of Spiritualism, assist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued personal existence after physical death, and of the possibility of communion with departed friends, and who are unable to join a society existing for this purpose, the following advertisements of mediums and psychios may be of service.

will adopting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the issuefides of advertisers, the proprietors of 'Light' do not hold themselves in any way responsible, either for the qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its reasonableness. 'M. A. (Oxon.)' says: 'Try the results you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told . . . do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a spirit of idle curiosity or frivolity.'

Apart from the special subject of spirit return, there are other branches of psychic research, vix., clairvoyance, psychometry, clairaudience, &c., worthy of investigation by advanced students. It is essential, however, that these should be studied in a strictly scientific and impersonal spirit, anything in the nature of 'fortune-telling' being not only unreliable but illegal.

The Personal Investigation of Spiritualism.

ossist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued personal existence after physical death, and of the possibility of communion with departed friends, and who are unable to join a society existing for this purpose, the following advertisements of mediums and psychics may be of service.

While adopting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the issa-fides of advertisers, the proprietors of 'Light' do not hold themselves in any way responsible, either for the qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its reasonableness. 'M. A. (Oxon.)' says: 'Try the results you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told . . . do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a spirit of idle curiosity or frivolity.'

Apart from the special subject of spirit return, there are other branches of psychic research, vix., clairvoyance, psychometry, clairaudience, &c., worthy of investigation by advanced students. It is essential, however, that these should be studied in a strictly scientific and impersonal spirit, anything in the nature of 'fortune-telling' being not only unreliable but illegal.

MAN AND THE SPIRITUAL WORLD, AS DISCLOSED BY THE BIBLE.

THOUGHTS OF THE SPIRITUAL.

8th Edition.

PROBLEMS OF THE SPIRITUAL.

6th Edition.

The thousands of grateful letters, received by the author, from persons of all ranks in life, and from all quarters of the world, have borne witness to the enlightenment and comfort these books have brought to so many. Moreover, the large number of Press review concerning them which have appeared, and the fact of the many editions through which the works have passed, show how widespread and great has been the interest evoked by them.

'The Rev. Arthur Chambers has received conclusive proof that a large public is interested in his teaching as to the future life.'

the Personal Investigation of Spiritualism.

saist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued perconsideristence after physical death, and of the possibility of communion with departed friends, and who are unable to join a society existing for this purpose, the following advertisements of mediums and psychics may be of service.

Saille adopting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the has-fides of advertisers, the proprietors of 'Light' do not bold themselves in any way responsible, either for the qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by lavestigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its reasonableness. 'M. A. (Oxon.)' says: 'Try the results you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told . . . do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a spirit of idle curiosity or frivolity.'

Apart from the special subject of spirit return, there are other branches of psychic research, viz., clairvoyance, psychometry, clairaudience, &c., worthy of investigation by advanced students. It is essential, however, that these should be studied in a strictly scientific and impersonal spirit, anything in the nature of 'fortune-telling' being not only unreliable but illegal.

the Personal Investigation of Spiritualism.

Is saist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued perreal existence after physical death, and of the possibility of communion with departed friends, and who are unable to join a society existing for this purpose, the following adverissments of mediums and psychies may be of service.

While adopting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the issa-fats of advertisers, the proprietors of 'Light' do not bold themselves in any way responsible, either for the qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its matters, and unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its responsheness. 'M. A. (Oxon.)' says: 'Try the results you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told . . . do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a spirit of idle curiosity or frivolity.'

Apart from the special subject of spirit return, there are other branches of psychic research, viz., clairvoyance, psychometry, clairaudience, &c., worthy of investigation by advanced students. It is essential, however, that these should be studied in a strictly scientific and impersonal spirit, anything in the nature of 'fortune-telling' being sot only unreliable but illegal.

The Personal Investigation of Spiritualism.

To assist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued personal existence after physical death, and of the possibility of communion with departed friends, and who are unable to join a society existing for this purpose, the following advertisements of mediums and psychics may be of service.

While adopting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the issafides of advertisers, the proprietors of 'Light' do not hold themselves in any way responsible, either for the qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its ressonableness. 'M. A. (Oxon.)' says: 'Try the results you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and s clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told... do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a spirit of idle curiosity or frivolity.'

Apart from the special subject of spirit return, there are other branches of psychic research, vis., clairvoyance, psychometry, clairaudience, &c., worthy of investigation by advanced students. It is essential, however, that these should be studied in a strictly scientific and impersonal spirit, anything in the nature of 'fortune-telling' being not only unreliable but illegal.

NEW LIGHT ON IMMORTALITY.

E. E. FOURNIER D'ALBE, B.Sc. (Lon.), M.R.I.A.

"Mr. E. E. Fournier d'Albe, who has written some profound and original works dealing with the constitution of matter and the possibility of the existence of other universes on various scales of magnitude as compared with our own, has now approached the subject of immortality from a new point of view. After discussing the wider problems of immortality as distinct from what might be only a temporary survival, the author collects and marshals his assumptions to form the groundwork of a 'new psychology,' and shows how they explain the observed supernormal phenomens of mediumship, automatisms, thought-transference, psychometry, human magnetism, &c. This section of the book is of high interest and importance, for it contains an excellent account of the phenomena observed by Sir William Crookes with Florence Cook, and portraits of the medium and of the spirit visitant, Katie King.'"—Light.

LETTERS FROM A LIVING DEAD MAN.

Written Down by ELSA BARKER.
(By Automatic Writing.)

The alleged Communicant occupied in life a high position in the legal profession, and his attitude towards all questions in relation to the other world was of the broadest kind. He enters it, according to his own account, in the spirit of an explorer, seeking new fields of knowledge, and his report of his experiences is as refreshingly broadminded as it is original and free from bias. The authoress observes that the effect of the letters has been to remove entirely any fear of death which she may have ever had.

NEW LIGHT ON IMMORTALITY.

E. E. FOURNIER D'ALBE, B.Sc. (Lon.), M.R. I.A.

"Mr. E. E. Fournier d'Albe, who has written some profound and original works dealing with the constitution of matter and the possibility of the existence of other universes on various scales of magnitude as compared with our own, has now approached the subject of immortality from a new point of view. After discussing the wider problems of immortality as distinct from what might be only a temporary survival, the author collects and marshals his assumptions to form the groundwork of a 'new psychology,' and shows how they explain the observed supernormal phenomena of mediumship, automatisms, thought-transference, psychometry, human magnetism, &c. This section of the book is of high interest and importance, for it contains an excellent account of the phenomena observed by Sir William Crookes with Florence Cook, and portraits of the medium and of the spirit visitant, Katie King." Occultism, Hypnotism, Magic, Psychic Phenomena, Telepathy, Reincarnation, Dreams, Multiple Personality, Religious Mysticism, &c.

Large Royal Octayo, 80 pp.

ILLUSTRATED.

Monthly, 7d. net.

During the past ten years the subject of Psychic and Occult Phenomena and the laws underlying such Phenomena have received serious and increasing attention from all classes of the reading public.

"THE OCCULT REVIEW" has undoubtedly contributed in no small degree to this change of mental attitude in relation to the consideration of the problems of the Unseen World, and its appeal is made in especial to the student and serious thinker rather than to the dabbler in Occultism.

"THE OCCULT REVIEW" numbers amongst its contributors and readers many of the most distinguished men of the day. Its freedom from bias and independent standpoint have secured for its unique position in contemporary periodical literature.

The Personal Investigation of Spiritualism.

10 assist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued personal existence after physical death, and of the possibility of communion with departed friends, and who are unable to join a society existing for this purpose, the following advertisements of mediums and psychics may be of service.

The adopting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the bina-fides of advertisers, the proprietors of "Light" do not hold themselves in any way responsible, either for the qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its reasonableness. "M. A. (Oxon.)" says: "Try the results you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told . . . do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a spirit of idle curiosity or frivolity."

Apart from the special subject of spirit return, there are other branches of psychic research, viz., clairvoyance, psychometry, clairaudience, &c., worthy of investigation by advanced students. It is essential, however, that these should be studied in a strictly scientific and impersonal spirit, anything in the nature of "fortune-telling" being not only unreliable but illegal.

assist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued personal existence after physical death, and of the possibility of communion with departed friends, and who are unable to join a society existing for this purpose, the following advertisements of mediums and psychics may be of service.

Spile adopting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the head-fides of advertisers, the proprietors of "Light" do not held themselves in any way responsible, either for the qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its reasonableness. "M. A. (Oxon.)" says: "Try the results you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told . . . do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a spirit of idle curiosity or frivolity."

Apart from the special subject of spirit return, there are other branches of psychio research, viz., clairvoyance, psychometry, clairaudience, &c., worthy of investigation by advanced students. #### HAFED, PRINCE OF PERSIA

HIS EXPERIENCES IN EARTH-LIFE AND SPIRIT-LIFE

Being Spirit Communications received through Mr. David Deput to Glasgow Trance-Painting Medium.

With an Appendix containing communications from the Spirit are RUISDAL AND STEEN.

RUISDAL AND STEEN.

Illustrated by Fac-similes of various Drawings and Writings, the Direct Work of the Spirits.

'Hafed,' a Prince of Persia, lived at the commencement of the Christian Era. His life-story is deeply interesting, and in the course it much interesting information is given of the natives of the Bat we they were in his day; but the grand feature of the communication is what he has to tell about the middle life of Jesus Christ. Hafed dam to have been one of the wise men of the East guided to Jacks whe star. Jesus is said to have spent years with him in Persia, and to have travelled in India, Egypt, and Greece.

the Personal Investigation of Spiritualism

ssist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued personal existence after physical death, and of the possibility of communion with departed friends, and who are unable to join a society existing for this purpose, the following adverisements of mediums and psychics may be of service.

sile adopting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the jona-fides of advertisers, the proprietors of "Light" do not bold themselves in any way responsible, either for the
qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained
by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its reasonableness. "M. A. (Oxon.)" says: "Try the results you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told... do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a spirit of idle curiosity or frivolity."

Apart from the special subject of spirit return, there are other branches of psychic research, viz., clairvoyance, psychometry, clairaudience, &c., worthy of investigation by advanced students. It is essential, however, that these should be studied in a strictly scientific and impersonal spirit, anything in the nature of "fortune-telling" being not only unreliable but illegal.

the Personal Investigation of Spiritualism.

sist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued persual existence after physical death, and of the possibility of communion with departed friends, and who are unable to join a society existing for this purpose, the following advertisements of mediums and psychics may be of service.

Alle adopting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the base-fides of advertisers, the proprietors of "Light" do not bold themselves in any way responsible, either for the qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its reasonableness. "M. A. (Oxon.)" says: "Try the results you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told ... do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a pirit of idle curiosity or frivolity."

Art from the special subject of spirit return, there are other branches of psychic research, viz., clairvoyance, psychometry, clairaudience, &c., worthy of investigation by advanced students. It is essential, however, that these should be studied in a strictly scientific and impersonal spirit, anything in the nature of "fortune-telling" being not only unreliable but illegal.

sist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued persual existence after physical death, and of the possibility of a society existing for this purpose, the following adversements of mediums and psychics may be of service.

subpting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the instance of advertisers, the proprietors of "Light" do not had themselves in any way responsible, either for the malifeations of such advertisers or for the results obtained investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business atters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its resonableness. "M. A. (Oxon.)" says: "Try the results part by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and elear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a grit of idle curiosity or frivolity."

I from the special subject of spirit return, there are other tranches of psychic research, viz., clairvoyance, psychemetry, clairaudience, &c., worthy of investigation by advanced students. It is essential, however, that these abould be studied in a strictly scientific and impersonal girit, anything in the nature of "fortune-telling" being at only unreliable but illegal.

HAFED, PRINCE OF PERSIA;

HIS EXPERIENCES IN EARTH-LIFE AND SPIRIT-LIFE.

Being Spirit Communications received through Mr. David Duguid, the Glasgow Trance-Painting Medium.

With an Appendix containing communications from the Spirit-Artists RUISDAL AND STEEN.

RUISDAL AND STEEN.

Illustrated by Fac-similes of various Drawings and Writings, the Direct Work of the Spirits.

'Hafed,' a Prince of Persia, lived at the commencement of the Christian Era. His life-story is deeply interesting, and in the course of it much interesting information is given of the natives of the East as they were in his day; but the grand feature of the communications is what he has to tell about the middle life of Jesus Christ. Hafed claims to have been one of the wise men of the East guided to Judea by the star. Jesus is said to have spent years with him in Persia, and to have travelled in India, Egypt, and Greece.

the Personal Investigation of Spiritualism.

ssist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued personal existence after physical death, and of the possibility of communion with departed friends, and who are unable to join a society existing for this purpose, the following advertisements of mediums and psychics may be of service.

The adopting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the standards of advertisers, the proprietors of "Light" do not bold themselves in any way responsible, either for the qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its reasonableness. "M. A. (Oxon.)" says: "Try the results you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told ... do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a spirit of idle curiosity or frivolity."

Introm the special subject of spirit return, there are other branches of psychic research, viz., clairvoyance, psychometry, clairaudience, &c., worthy of investigation by advanced students. It is essential, however, that these should be studied in a strictly scientific and impersonal spirit, anything in the nature of "fortune-telling" being not only unreliable but illegal.

With upwards of 70 illustrations. Cloth, 1/3 net post freeCheiro's fame as a reader of hands is world-wide, and the value of his work has been recognised by many distinguished men. On more than one occasion King Edward sent for him, Gladstone invited him down to Hawarden, and in 1894 he took an impression (reproduced in this volume) of Lord Kitchener's hand at the War Office, when he foretold that 1914 would be the year in which Lord Kitchener's heaviest and greatest responsibilities would be undertaken. He has been consulted by Chamberlain, Mr. Balfour, Mmes. Bernhardt and Melba, Mark Twain, &c. The first day he wore his robes as Lord Chief Justice, Lord Russell of Killowen sent for Cheiro in fulfilment of a promise given when, as an unknown barrister, he was told of the brillhant career awaiting him. In this book Cheiro gives clear instruction that will enable everybody to read their own hands and those of their friends, and so help them to cultivate that in their natures which is most likely to contribute to their happiness and success.

VISIONS, PREVISIONS AND MIRACLES IN MODERN TIMES.

BY E. HOWARD GREY, D.D.S.

Contains a vast amount of detailed information relative to the subject, occurring under a wide variety of circumstances, political, religious, and Spiritualistic. He details many incidents describable as physical phenomena, as "lights," "rappings," sounds, levitations, healings, deg. J. J. Morse, in Preface.

A book for the general reader as well as the student of psychic evidences. He covers a great deal of ground in an attractive way by reason of the multitude of cases of verified vision, fulfilled prophecy and established miracle. The outcome of wide study and research—examples of phenomena from many countries and in many periods.—LIGHT.

This book contains more historical narrative than philosophical disquisition. We read in it of stupendous happenings and inexplicable occurrences, many of them already familiar to readers of occult literature, but several unknown to all except a few psychical researchers.

His book will be read with interest, and not without profit.—" Occult Review."

the Personal Investigation of Spiritualism.

assist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued persasist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued personal existence after physical death, and of the possibility of communion with departed friends, and who are unable to join a society existing for this purpose, the following advertisements of mediums and psychics may be of service. The proprietors of "Light" do not hold themselves in any way responsible, either for the qualifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained by investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part of inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business matters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should be accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its reasonableness. "M. A. (Oxon.)" says: "Try the results you get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told ... do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a spirit of idle curiosity or frivolity." part from the special subject of spirit return, there are other branches of psychic research, viz., clairvoyance, psychometry, clairaudience, &c., worthy of investigation by advanced students. It is essential, however, that these should be studied in a strictly scientific and impersonal spirit, anything in the nature of "fortune-telling" being not only unreliable but illegal.

sist those who desire to obtain evidence of continued persal existence after physical death, and of the possibility of meunion with departed friends, and who are unable to a society existing for this purpose, the following adversements of mediums and psychics may be of service.

adopting every reasonable precaution to ascertain the services of advertisers, the proprietors of "Light" do not all themselves in any way responsible, either for the alifications of such advertisers or for the results obtained investigators. They deprecate any attempt on the part inquirers to obtain advice on financial and business surters, and hold that no statement made by a psychic should accepted, unless the inquirer is fully satisfied of its asonableness. "M. A. (Oxon.)" says: "Try the results of get by the light of reason. Maintain a level head and clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a sirit of idle curiosity or frivolity." from the special subject of spirit return, there are other anches of psychic research, viz., clairvoyance, psylometry, clairaudience, &c., worthy of investigation by vanced students. It is essential, however, that these bould be studied in a strictly scientific and impersonal pirit, anything in the nature of "fortune-telling" being at only unreliable but illegal.
